
K'nex Screaming Serpent Roller Coaster

Posted by Lynn Farrin - 2008/09/30 12:59

Looking for an exciting way to observe the types of forces and motion involved with roller coasters? Engage your students in building a working model roller coaster using this K'nex set. This gently used set would make a great addition to your middle or high school physics unit! Asking $20 or best offer. Retails for over $70.

Hello Hillary,

It is still available. Are you by chance attending the MSTA conference in Gardiner next week? If so we could meet up there and I could deliver it. Why don't you email me privately and we'll set discuss the details. Lfarrin@mmsa.org

Thanks,
Lynn :)
